

To: Cache County Council

We, the citizens of Cache County, petition the County government and city governments to join in a Cache County Library system.

Since 1976, when Cache County turned down the opportunity of having a County Library, each municipality has been left to either support their own library or go without adequate library access. This situation is inequitable, with each County resident having various levels of access to books and library material depending on where they live. This configuration is not efficient, with each library expending resources to have their own set of books, their own card catalog system and their own websites. The situation we now have is also confusing. For example, Hyde Park residents don't know if they can get a library card at the North Logan Library, and Providence residents wonder how much it would cost to purchase a Logan Library card. It is also not always clear who has access to the Hyrum City Library.

A single Cache County Library system providing equal access to books and library materials to each county resident at many locations around the valley would be more efficient, and equitable for all county residents. All library patrons would benefit from access to a broader selection of materials. Also, larger library systems often have an easier time obtaining state and federal government funding.

It is now time for the county and city governments of Cache County to institute a Cache County Library system.

Sincerely,

The Undersigned

I appreciate the use I have of the Hyde Park library. However, I find it very unfortunate that the leaders of our cities and county cannot set aside differences and form a county wide system. It is now time to do so.

This is greatly needed and desired

Although North Logan is terrific, we regret that everyone does not have access to a quality library.

If Salt Lake County can do it so can we
A county wide library system is a great idea!.

34	Wesley W. Land	Logan
35	Melissa Shelton	Logan	I have lived in number of cities in Cache Valley and have experienced the frustration of not being able to go to a favorite library because I no longer lived in that city as well as having to adjust to the different selections and services from library to library. A county library system would solve so many of these problems!!

75	Melissa Kerkmann	Logan	I grew up in Logan, and was fortunate to have access to the library. County-wide access would be incredibly beneficial to all it is available to. Question though. I am 100% open to to a county wide system here in Cache Valley. T
233	Rosalind James	Richmond, UT	I once lived in Yamhill Co., Oregon, where they had what they called the Chemeketa Community College Library System, which included all the city libraries for the two counties served by the community college. It was very nice. One library card was good in any of the towns, and you could easily get on-line in any of the libraries and see the entire collection of books for the region, and order one if it was not available in your library. It was very nice, and made books readily available to school children in rural areas.

Forming a Cache County Library system would be a great benefit to our children and it would bring county residents of all ages more access to important resources. I wholeheartedly support such an endeavor.

We need to do this - it's a good thing.

Let's move forward, as the county has done with recycling!

Thomas Jefferson's well known comment, "I cannot live without my books," is worth noting as we consider a county-wide library. What better cost-efficient way to bring books to everyone in Cache Valley than a library usable by all residents of the valley?

| 318 | Lesa Wilson | Hyde Park | Having moved into Cache Valley recently, the library situation has been one of the greatest disappointments. We came from Ithaca, New York where the county public library offered an extensive music collection as well as an excellent reference section, not to mention a myriad of books on any subject you could imagine. The library was valued by the community as an important piece of life-long learning. Enabling a county library system in Cache County would be good for obtaining funding for expanding services for all. |

| 332 | Lorraine Barton | Logan | I had no idea when we looked all over Cache Valley for a house that it would be critical to live in Logan City to have access to a larger library. I check out many books for my mother who is home bound. What if I only had access to a bookmobile. It is grossly unfair. |
| 333 | Sally Carles | Logan | Even though we have a Logan address, we live in the county and do not have free access to libraries. |
| 334 | Charles Carles | | |
| 335 | Stephanie R. White | Logan | Why can't we all share in the wealth of knowledge? I would hope that Logan City would also enter into such a collaboration. Let's tear down the fences and allow more access. I am unaware of what tax changes would occur, but I would hope that they would be reasonable since most towns have pre-existing library tax allowance.... |

360	Linnea Johnson	River Heights	When my children were young, we drove all the way to Hyrum to visit the library despite the fact that we live less than one mile from the Logan library. Five years ago, when I became employed, I 'broke' down and purchased a Logan library card. It was against my concerted belief that libraries should be free. Libraries strengthen communities and should be accessible to all.

366	Alenda Coburn	Providence	We lived in Corvallis, OR and Benton County had an excellent county wide library system. It amazes me that some residents of Cache County are not in agreement with a county wide library system. It makes sense, and it makes materials more accessible to more people. Isn't that the whole idea of a library system? What isn't to love about this?

371	Dustin Miller	Logan
372	Austin Ball	River Heights	An article in February in the Herald Journal indicated that a dialogue on this topic has taken place among representatives of various cities. Much of the opposition came from smaller cities in the form of not wishing to lose control or similar superfluous arguments. There was a time in this world when knowledge and information was controlled by few at the expense of many. Those individuals also desired control. As a citizen of a small city, I plead with those representatives to acknowledge the desires of those they represent and do what we have asked! Allow knowledge to spread!

435	Debra J Smith	Hyrum	The present system is an absolute travesty holding people hostage merely because they want to read and obtain a library card. What message are we sending to our youth whom we constantly preach the fundamentals of reading and then not providing them with a simple avenue for obtaining a library card. Library usage results in an asset to the entire community. Library usage was a privilege and is not an expense nor was it ever designed for monetary gain. 551	NEAL BARRUS	Smithfield	I moved here from Bellevue WA where there is a countywide Library system. The resources available were exponentially greater than the hodge-podge system here in Cache Valley. Some argue that their city has more money and deserves exclusive rights to their library. This argument is fundamentally flawed in this small community. I live in Smithfield and work in Logan and shop in all cities. I pay taxes in ALL cities but am limited to one small library in Smithfield. I was amazed at how many "cities" were in such a small area when I first moved here. There are so many wasted resources in this valley because everyone is worried that if they share, they might not get their fair share. They are so wrong. If services were combined and all the wasted duplicated resources were eliminated, EVERYONE would get more from their tax dollars. Fell free to contact me for help in pushing this project forward.

578	Jed Grunig	Nibley	This is truly needed for Nibley residence. Having used botht the Logan library and teh Hyrum library, there is no comparison between the two. The resources available at the Logan Library just can't be beat!
579	Randy J. Jost	Hyde Park	I believe that no city can claim to be interested in the welfare of its citizens if it does not provide broad access to a library. I also believe the low and fixed income citizens of the city deserve the same access to library materials as those that are most well off. A county-wide system is the most equitable and cost effective way to achieve this.
580	Vickie L. Jost	Hyde Park	We have lived in 5 states over the past 30 years, and everywhere we lived, the library was county-wide, and available to all its citizens, with no user fees. When we lived in Virginia, we lived close to the line separating Fairfax County and Loudoun County and our whole family had library cards in both counties, with no user fees. Everywhere we have lived we have had access to great libraries, at no cost other than our tax contribution in our home county, until we moved here. If it is possible to provide library access to non residents like Loudoun county provided to us, then there is no reason that a community and a people that pride themselves on their love of learning can not provide educational materials to all its citizens. Additionally, a county-wide system would provide economies of scale and greater "buying power" when acquiring resources. It just makes good economic sense to have a county-wide system.
